Yes

- use technology effectively to manage data to improve teaching and learning

Yes

- use technology effectively to analyze data to improve teaching and learning

Yes

In addition, application and uses of instructional technology are embedded throughout Education coursework required for all teacher education programs. Students are required to utilize technology to develop instruction and assessment materials that will positively impact their roles as teachers, as well as demonstrate competency in using technology as a teacher. Student teaching requirements ensure that technology is used to collect, manage, and analyze data in order to improve teaching and learning, through the completion of the Instructional Analysis Project. The Student Teaching Evaluation evaluates each of the candidates on their abilities to utilize technology to positively impact student learning.

Section VI. Teacher Training

Yes

- participate as a member of individualized education program teams

Yes

- teach students who are limited English proficient effectively

Yes

Provide a description of the evidence your program uses to show that it prepares general education teachers to teach students with disabilities effectively, including training related to participation as a member of individualized education program teams, as defined in section 614(d)(1)(B) of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, and to effectively teach students who are limited English proficient. Section VII. Contextual Information

Please use this space to provide any additional information that describes your teacher preparation program(s). You may also attach information to this report card. The U.S. Department of Education is especially interested in any evaluation plans or interim or final reports that may be available.

Peru State College uses three benchmarks for teacher education programs - admission to teacher education, admission to student teaching, and program completion. Each benchmark includes minimum GPAs, completion of specific courses/experiences, background checks, portfolio review, and PPST scores. Candidates cannot complete a teacher education program without meeting all requirements for each benchmark. Clinical experiences begin in the sophomore year (20 hours) and continue in the junior/senior years (80-100 hours). Student teaching is completed the final semester of the program and requires 16 weeks of full day experiences. All clinical experiences require the completion of an evaluation and time log to ensure minimum requirements. As a result of data analysis, changes in course curriculum have been modified to more successfully meet candidates' needs and the needs of the profession. In addition, course formats have been modified to more successfully provide access to courses/programs. NOTE: Peru State College allows candidates to request that the Composite PPST score be accepted for Admission to Teacher Education. This composite score requires two of the three sections of the PPST to be passed, and the third section to be within one point of passing, with an overall composite score equal to, or higher than, the minimum of 513. The allowance of this composite score may impact the overall percentage of completers who pass each section of the PPST in our data.
